The Neutral Circle Political Foundation Model

----- THE NEW POLITICAL FOUNDATION MODEL -----

- + The new Political Foundation Model will help a country have a strong foundation in structure of political with the neutral 25 house of representatives for small country, 51 house of representatives for medium country and 101 house of representatives for larger country like United States.
- + The house of representatives are odd number with one leader so will never have even votes. This central nerve inner circle will be the brain of the country or the country central intelligence. This central intelligence should have all areas of knowledge for entire country as well as the whole world.
- + No need to have vice president since this model is strong political model with self-manage and self-grown.
- + Self-manage and self-grown model will help the country with this central nerve (inner circle) to have match and debate with maximum of 25% candidates from outside when the new president is elected. The inner circle will have maximum of 25% to be the candidates to debate with the candidates from the elected president to be challenged to replace for a better and strong political foundation model.
- + This model can be applied to military or other organizations to have a strong and centralize the intelligence.

The 3 Neutral Circle Levels

Henry V. Pham

The main political foundation is, For Republican: The country strong, then people rich. Democracy: The people rich, then country strong. Both of these two theories of political foundation must be balanced in the equation of time and the society. This is the reason why we have two political parties, Democracy and Republican. The Republican party wants the country strong and usually control import, export and due with other countries like wars, embargo, and other country control policies. The Democracy party wants the people rich and peaceful with more job creations before due with other countries for import, export or wars, embargo and other country control policies. However, both parties are not well working together and sometimes may cause political corruption and lead the country to collapse or could lead the country to a civil war or even worse could lead the country to a silent dead end. So, with the Neutral Circle Political Foundation model, the country will be stronger and prevent all these worst cases could happen. This Neutral Circle Political Foundation model will control and tune both parties to the best direction if there are conflict.

----- THE NEW POLITICAL FOUNDATION MODEL -----

The new Political Foundation Model will help a country have a strong foundation in structure of political with the neutral 25 house of representatives for small country, 51 house of representatives for medium country and 101 house of representatives for larger countries with great population like China, India, Russia, etc... The house of representatives are odd number with one leader so will never have even votes. This central nerve inner circle will be the brain of the country or the country central intelligence. This central intelligence should have all areas of knowledge for entire country as well as the whole world.

No need to have vice president since this model is strong political model with self-manage and self-grown. Self-manage and self-grown model will help the country with this central nerve (inner circle) to have match and debate with maximum of 25% candidates from outside when the new president is elected. The inner circle will have maximum of 25% to be the candidates to debate with the candidates from the elected president to be challenged to replace for a better and strong political foundation model.

This model can be applied to military or other organizations to have a strong and centralize the intelligence.
